So I was watching the uno amalgam when an idea came to me the monopoly amalgam combining every version of monopoly the first addition is monopoly.com this only adds one more rule but boy is it a good one Whenever you roll doubles you MUST choose a property which will no longer collect rent until someone else rolls doubles. This doesn't keep you from buying these properties though. And new tokens including one to show which properties you can't collect money from the 2ed addition is monopoly mega witch has a new board with new properties massachusetts arctic and 1 more for every color you only need all but 1 for a monopoly but all for skyscrapers and X4 rent for undeveloped properties and the auction space where you auction off any unowned property actioning works like this you list a price and the next person list a higher price until and if you don't think a higher price is worth it you drop out and don't haft to bid anymore the person whose last standing gives the banker the allotted money and gets the property if there is no property to action off you go to the one with the highest rent also there's a 1,000m dollar bill the birthday gift space gas company a wield quirk were all the colors have 1 that is more expensive except orange red and yellow and the train station witch double the rent of a train station cost 100m and sell for 50m there are also skyscrapers witch are the next step for hotels according to some madness
250-> 750
450-> 950
550-> 1050
600-> 1100
750-> 1250
900-> 1400
950->1450
1000->1500
1050->2050
1100->2100
1150->2150
1200->2200
1275->2275
1400->2400
1500->2500
2000->3000
And the fast die which is rolled with all the others has 1 2 and 3 which act normal the bus sign witch give you a bus ticket bus tickets move you to a place on the side of the monopoly map your on that is ahead of you and can be traded and the monopoly man on two sides which move you to the next unowned property after your turn and can buy it if you want if you roll triples you move to any spot on the board the 3rd edition is monopoly for millennials this one adds a new space that will go to the left of every railroad going places you pay at the railroad an extra 100m to go to the next railroad and 200m to go 2 railroads over and 300m to go 3 over and when you pass go using these you collect 0 dollars
